

Falls du vergessen hast, wie die Zeit gebildet wird oder wie man Adjektive steigert, schau dir die Hilfekarte an!

1. Going-to-future

Use the going-to-future and fill in the gaps.

Sarah is going to buy a rabbit. (to buy)

She is going to keep the rabbit at the back of the shop. (to keep)

Sarah and Nick are going to make a cage for it. (to make)

They are going to look after it every day. (to look after)

Sarah is going to buy food for the rabbit (to buy) and she is going to clean the cage. (to clean)

Sarah is going to give her rabbit a name – Charles. (to give)

Sarah is going to talk to her rabbit very often (to talk to) and the children are going to play with it. (to play)

2. Comparison of adjectives

Comparing foods

1) Write the German translation for these adjectives.

- a) delicious: köstlich a) small: klein
 b) healthy: gesund b) big: groß
 c) expensive: teuer c) crispy: knusprig
 d) cheap: günstig/billig d) juicy: saftig
 e) good: gut e) soft: weich
 f) bad: schlecht f) popular: beliebt

2) Fill in the table with the comparative and the superlative of the adjectives.

adjective	comparative	superlative
delicious	more delicious	the most delicious healthy	healthier	the healthiest
expensive	more expensive	the most expensive
cheap	cheaper	the cheapest
good	better	the best
bad	worse	the worst
small	smaller	the smallest big	bigger	the biggest crispy	crispier	the crispiest
juicy	juicier	the juiciest
soft	softer	the softest
popular	more popular	the most popular

Comparing foods

3) Fill in the gaps with the correct comparative.

- a) Apples are healthier than chips. (healthy)
- b) Cereals are crispier than bananas. (crispy)
- c) Chocolate is more delicious than radish. (delicious)
- d) Onions taste worse than corn. (bad)
- e) Cheese is more popular than mushrooms. (popular)
- f) Nuts are smaller than eggs. (small)
- g) Raspberries taste better than pears. (good)
- h) Peppers are bigger than peas. (big)
- i) Biscuits are more expensive than cucumbers. (expensive)
- j) Lemons are juicier than apples. (juicy)

4) Fill in the gaps with the correct superlative.

- a) Bananas are the cheapest fruit you can buy. (cheap)
- b) Yogurt has the softest mouth feel. (soft)
- c) Crisps are the crispiest snack in the world. (crispy)
- d) Red meat is the worst meat you can eat. (bad)
- e) Raspberries are the best fruits that I know. (good)
- f) Peppers are some of the healthiest vegetables. (healthy)
- g) Fish is the most expensive protein you can buy. (expensive)
- h) Peas are among the smallest vegetables. (small)