

1 Don't hurt yourself!

- 1 Those tools are very dangerous. I'm not surprised the children hurt themselves.
- 2 When the Parsons were in Glasgow, their son had to look after himself.
- 3 Rosie really enjoyed herself in the film studio.
- 4 When Rosie saw herself on TV a few weeks later, she felt very strange. (ohne Reflexivpronomen)
- 5 I wonder what life in Scotland would be like. (ohne Reflexivpronomen)
- 6 Can you imagine living in Scotland? (ohne Reflexivpronomen)
- 7 We always meet in the park on Saturday afternoon. (ohne Reflexivpronomen)
- 8 Jamie, there's some fruit in the kitchen. Please help yourself.
- 9 My brother taught himself to play the guitar.

4 LANGUAGE Some photos from Germany

- 1 This is our house in Germany. We didn't build it ourselves, but Thomas did some of the work himself.
- 2 This is my room. As you know, I make all my clothes myself.
- 3 These are our two children. They are old enough to look after themselves.
- 4 Here you see our cat. It always washes itself on our bed.
- 5 Here is a barbecue with friends in our garden. Thomas has just said: "Help yourselves to the steaks."
- 6 This is our daughter Emilia. She speaks French. She taught herself.

5 WRITING A ghost dream

Lösungsvorschlag:

Paul was scared. Then he saw a light – it came from the inside of the wardrobe.

Paul saw that the door of the wardrobe was open and there was a small white ghost.

The ghost came nearer and took his hand. Together they walked through the small door of the wardrobe into a large bright room. There were many children in this room, they were sitting at computers and playing computer games. "Come and play with us", said one of them. Paul was happy and sat down next to the boy. They played happily together and had much fun.

Suddenly Paul felt something on his head – it was his mum's hand.

"Time for a good Scottish breakfast", she said.
